

GIANMARIO TONDATO DA RUOS

He has been a Director of Lottomatica since 2006.

A business economics graduate from the Università Ca' Foscari in Venice. His most significant experience is in human resources and organization, first in Mondadori Group and then in various companies in the Benetton Group, where he's worked since 1987.

He joined Autogrill Group in 2000 as vice chairman and chief administrative officer, later becoming chairman and CEO.

He moved to the United States and engineered the integration of the newly acquired HMSHost Corp. (former catering division of Host Marriott) and successfully boosted its operating efficiency.

In 2003 he returned to Italy and was appointed Managing Director of Autogrill. In this role he developed a strategic plan for the growth and the internationalization of the group, that became the first world operator in restoration and retail for those travelling.

He is also a Director of Aldeasa S.A., and of Alpha Group Plc. (UK).